

Contents

Page No.

Part I

1-52

Readings From Bhagavadgita

I.1. Two Models of Decision-Making;	3
I.2. A Good Manager Approaches a Senior Adviser;	11
I.3. A Theory of Work-Culture;	19
I.4. Managing One-Self: The Primary Role in Management;	23
I.5. Who is an "Ideal" Leader?	29
I.6. How to Control Stress?	33
I.7. Classification of Assets: Daivi Sampat and Asuri Sampat;	39
I.8. The Art and Technique of Dialogue;	45

Part II

53-77

Readings From Ramayana

II.1. Attributes of An Ideal Leader;	55
II.2. Principles of Good Governance;	62
II.3. Discard the Fourteen Rajadoshas ;	76

Part III

79-124

Readings From Kautilya's Artha S'ashtra

III.1. Introduction;	81
III.2. Principles For the Ruler;	83
III.3. Choice of Ministers, Secretaries and Advisers;	87
III.4. Importance of Consultations;	91
III.5. Testing the Integrity of the Officers;	95

III.6. Drafting the "Laws" and "Contracts";	101
III.7. Modalities for Negotiations and Dialogues;	105
III.8. Seven Layers of the State and the Principles of Governance;	107
III.9 The routine and the role of the king :	110
III.10. Sectors of the Nation for Governance;	113
III.11. Select Proverbial Statements found in Arthashastra;	120

Part IV

125-144

Readings from Mahabharata

IV.1. Introduction;	127
IV.2. Excerpts on Rajadharma;	129
IV.3. History of the System of Monarchy and Governance;	134
IV.4. Duties, Rights and Social Harmony;	139

Part V

145-160

Readings From Krishi Parashara

V.1. Introduction;	147
V.2. Importance of Agriculture;	150
V.3. Importance of Rains and Irrigation;	152
V.4. Supervision of Agriculture;	155

Part VI

161-199

Select Essays of the Author

VI.1 Lok Pal System in Kautilya;	163
VI.2. Bhagavadgita and Management;	173
VI.3. Social Sciences and Humanities in Ancient India;	185